

DUE SOON... Construction of a new 1,000-seat theater has been approved for the Rolling Hills Plaza Shopping Center at Crenshaw Boulevard and Pacific Coast Highway and opening is contemplated around Christmas. Cost of the theater will be in excess of $300,000 and will be operated

Stiff Requirements Set In Engineering Course For El Camino Students

"Students in the new Materials of Engineering course at El Camino College will test materials to destruction, and will be required to know the exact mechanism of the material's failure," John Moehlman, engineering instructor, explained in describing new lab equipment.

The new laboratory, inaugurated in the fall of 1961, aided by a National Defense Act grant, is designed in keeping with Camino's emphasis on individual instruction.

The laboratory is unique in that it is equipped with six 10,000 pound testing machines rather than one 60,000 pound machine as was the custom in past years.

"The student is shown that the properties of materials depend first on their atomic structure, secondly on their microstructure and finally on their gross structure," Moehlman said.

"It is only through an intimate knowledge of the structure of materials that the engineers of the future will be able to produce new materials that will stand up to the stresses and temperatures involved in space flight," Moehlman added.

EQUIPMENT IS available for tests in tension, compression, bending, hardness, impact, corrosion, fatigue and electrical resistance, impedance and voltage breakdown.

Tests at elevated temperatures, an increasing important field, are to start during 1962-63, with the arrival of new equipment.

IN ADDITION, the laboratory is completely equipped for the preparation and microscopic examination of metallurgical specimens.

Offered to second semester students in the engineering program, the lab is presently housed in the physics building.

"ONE OF THE unexpected benefits of course," Clyde Mitchell, assistant director of instruction, said "is that several students who were obliged to interrupt their studies for financial reasons have been able to obtain employment in industrial testing laboratories as a result of their experience in the course."

"While we realize that the amount and value of the equipment alone make this laboratory an impressive offering, we feel what is far more important is that El Camino students are in a laboratory program that allows them individual, intimate investigation of material properties," Mitchell added.

Trio Speak To Baptists On Sunday

In the 11 a.m. service, Chaplain Bob Gunter will speak on "The Maturing Christian." The Rev. Gunter is Senior Chaplain at Long Beach Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. Christobal Dona, pastor of the Spanish-speaking mission in Wilmington, will address the 7:30 p.m. service. The mission church is sponsor-
